What really makes this software worth the money is the camera control software. via USB cable (assuming you update the firmware to version 2.0) ... Just turn on the camera, then in the camera settings in the main menu, select "USB" and select "Get new device name". I assume this can also be done in the device settings. From the Camera Pro menu, select "USB" from the menu. In the Device List section, select a device. Click on it and select "Get a new device name". You will see it in the list. You can select it as a computer name or as a "Device Name". Now tap the Refresh icon in the Settings menu.
