(Reuters) - Goldman Sachs Group Inc GS.N said on Thursday it had failed to fully disclose to investors how much of a U.S. subsidiary it controls, which the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is investigating. The eye-catching claim from Goldman Sachs follows an SEC inquiry into how the Wall Street bank reported billions of dollars in profits from its private equity portfolio to investors. Under certain circumstances, the rules require that Goldman reported its stake, in this case roughly $4 billion, as a separate investment, rather than a share of the same private equity deal, known as a pooling of interest. Goldman failed to adequately disclose the circumstances, and instead chose to report the stake as a share of the same private equity deal - indicating that the stake was no bigger than $1 billion. Shares of the New York-based firm fell as much as 4.9 percent, but recovered to close 1.8 percent higher, at $175.41. The case has raised questions about the ability of investors to be notified of such stakes, particularly as a government probe has focused on some of the worst performing deals at Goldman. Goldman has declined to comment on the SEC investigation, adding that it is cooperating with the agency. The SEC will not comment on the status of the Goldman case, a spokeswoman said. MarketWatch, citing an SEC filing last week, reported on Thursday that the SEC had looked into whether Goldman understated the size of its stake in a general partnership that is the

We recorded the soundtrack for ChronoClock in spring of 2011 as part of the Visual Novel Idea Factory project. We had not planned on making a soundtrack but we fell in love with the project and decided to create an album with our own music. We decided on using FLAC compression for the album, which allowed us to add 4 extra tracks and a music video in a format that is most suitable for listening via mobile devices. We hope you enjoy this project! More ChronoClock music is scheduled to be released in the near future, so keep an eye out. Special thanks to Studio Nu who recorded the music on the project. Special thanks to Biquiette and Rizun for supporting us with the project! Those are odd features to add for a soundtrack, but I trust that you have good intentions. (that being a steaming blob in the middle of a desperate attempt to bring more developers over to FLAC, you know, try to attract more developers by making music that keeps
