Similar to a custom save game, the Dynasty Shield Pack gives you the opportunity to make all of your monarchs safe for a short time while you go on holiday. All of your rulers and counties are safe for as long as you need them. They're yours again when you return. You can use the Dynasty Shield Pack in all of the following ways: Return to your ruler after you've successfully bought a random item in the market. Return to your ruler after you've answered a question correctly in a game of "What's Your Name Again?" Return to your ruler after you've completed a built-in quest. Return to your ruler after you've been unsuccessful at trying to buy a particular item in the market. Return to your ruler after he or she has died. Return to your ruler from the throne screen. Return to the game's "home" screen and play a new game. The Dynasty Shield Pack also works in Multiplayer. If you die while another player is still owning your kingdom, you'll return to that player's castle instead. Crisp Cube The main objective is to clear all but the Void cubes. Other cubes include Fire, Water, Special, and Normal. The more cubes you survive, the more time your cube becomes. Clearing cubes earns you more time. When all the cubes are cleared, the game ends. About Mr. Crisp: Mr. Crisp is a mysterious fellow. He has no backstory. He will block you if you attempt to time jump (see below). He is a weird amalgamation of a cat and a bear. The gameplay Mr. Crisp will block your path. Some will be familiar to you: - The normal cubes that appear will roll across to your position. - The water cubes will do the same but they will also slow down. - The fire cubes will zoom across the screen at a very fast speed. You will need to clear them quickly before they burn you. - The special cubes are the most dangerous. When they enter your play area, they will blow up after a short time (unless you are near them when they explode). Their power can vary, from a mini-explosion to a vacuum cleaner and everything in between. - The void cubes will not appear on the play area. As soon as you see them, you have two options: - Jump back and continue playing - Clear them for bonus time. - It takes a while for the void cubes to clear the play area. If you jump them during the window between when they appear and when you can clear them, you'll get sucked into the void and will lose one cube. - Water cubes will block Mr. Crisp if he tries to jump to them. - Fire cubes will clear Mr. Crisp if he tries to jump to them. - Special cubes are always dangerous and will explode when he nears them. To avoid clearing them in Mr. Crisp's lifetime, jump back and play another game. - Inversion cubes can be tricky to understand. When the countdown timer is at "0" a water cube will appear. When the countdown timer reaches 0 without the cube appearing, the void cubes will appear. When the cube appears but the countdown timer is not at "0" yet, the void cubes will be invisible. The void cubes will stay like this until the countdown timer reaches "0" again. - Time freeze Your cube has 3 hearts. Each heart gets you 20 seconds to clear a cube in the play area. Game [AppStore] - Free Are you the kind of gamer who loves tower defense games? If so, it's easy to see why Kingdom Rush Vengeance is the game that you should download to your iPhone today. This game is an elaborate and imaginative take on the classic tower defense trend. It's a title that many of us have grown up playing with other friends, so we're glad to see that is now a permanent feature on our iPhones. The tale begins with a breach in the walls of the evil demon lord named "Baron." Soon after this mishap, you must help your cross-dimensional barbarian hero, the good King, stop the horde of monsters from flowing into the demon lord's castle. Castle Lord gets around a bit in order to level itself up. Once King breached the prison wall, he was immediately deposited in the castle's dungeon. The dungeon is a tangled mess of a place, with few niches for the castle's denizens to lounge about and use their handhelds. Thankfully, the dungeon is perfectly suited for playing games due to its featureless layout and sculpted textures. There are some minor challenges to overcome before you can reach the dungeon's food and drink.. but those aren't too difficult, and it's clear why the dungeon was added. Once you defeat all twelve of the dungeon's bosses, you'll be forced to continue. As the dungeon crawls on, new dungeons get added, along with more quests. The word "quests" refers to the game's rewards. There are dual-purpose quest items that are so large they don't fit easily in the top screen. To unlock these, you must thoroughly explore each dungeon's bosses from the ground up. In most cases, items can be found on dead enemies, which is always a good thing. There are also items that can be borrowed by King's army, which is equivalent to a base builder. There are rechargeable spells that can be used on either an individual boss or the entire dungeon. The stars in the game are the golden shields and helmets which can be used to buff armor abilities. Using gold items, you can hire various heroes and wizards to help you out during your missions. These heroes and wizards last for the full duration of King's exploratory quest, and then fade away to a free-to-play format that allows players to purchase additional heroes or wizard spells at any time. The gameplay in Kingdom Rush Vengeance is a unique event. Each dungeon acts as a node in Gloom is a cooperative board game in which each player controls the fate of an eccentric family. The more miserable you make your own family, the better things will go for them in their final days. Each family member is unique and has their own story. Some are a wandering photographer, others are a detective in search of their stolen car. There is only one rule: make everyone else's life worse than your own. Controls How to play: To play, you will need the following materials: 1 copy of Gloom for each person participating 2-4 family cards for each person At least 30 minutes to prepare the game Gloom Game Overview: 1 Player(s) 2-4 Players 2 rounds 14-22 family cards, each with a different and unique character 6 sets of event cards 2-3 game modifiers 4 Untimely Death cards 1 Game board Features: Local Scoreboard: Each family receives 5 family cards at game start. Players must keep track of each family's Self-Worth score on their own game board. The family with the highest Self-Worth score at the end of the game wins the game. Multi-family Game: Each player can control the fate of as many families as they want! If all but one of the players let one of their own families die, that family will be destroyed and all other families will be awarded with points as if the single player had died. Unique Characters: Each family member is unique and has their own story. It's a challenge to create the most miserable story possible by using the cards you've been dealt. Community: Have your friends come play this game with you! Anyone can come play Gloom online at our website, or in person at your local game store.
