Yet another program with a free office suite called.. I do not want so many programs to open! Â . Remember when BJP reached out to SCI to prove the existence of 'Hindu Terrorism'? This is their 'Jai Hind' rally on the last day of Sankranti. In the backdrop of a 'perfect' monsoon and 'Parivartan', a day later this rally creates a lot of confusion and subterfuge. BJP reached out to SCI and made its stand clear on the so-called 'Hindu Terrorism'. BJP believe that previous governments failed in their fight against 'Hindu Terrorism' in India. Mr. Amit Shah tweeted, "Our government has ordered to arrest all those involved in bomb blasts across the country in which many innocent Hindus have lost their lives. We shall not allow anyone to target Hindus in our country." What is the logic behind such a statement? Is it to equate terrorists with Hindus? Or is it to imply that Gujarat's minorities were targeted only because they are Hindus and this kind of terrorism is not possible in any other part of India? In light of the recent arrest of the accused, a statement from Sonia Gandhi said, "The nation will remember the perpetrators of this act. The government is determined to bring them to justice."

If indeed there has been attacks of this kind in Gujarat, the government of the day could have brought it to fore earlier, didn't it? It seems that the Prime Minister and the Home Minister were not aware of the actual fact. The 'Hindu Terrorism' remark isn't the first time BJP has made any statement against 'Hindu Terrorism'
