Structure of the indigoidine (indigo) biosynthetic enzyme complex from Pseudomonas aeruginosa. The indigoidine (indigo) biosynthetic enzyme complex from Pseudomonas aeruginosa was purified to homogeneity by anion-exchange chromatography and gel filtration. The enzyme complex consists of two proteins of molecular masses 45 kDa and 46 kDa, respectively, which are phosphorylated by the ATP-regenerating enzyme, indigoidine reductase. The enzyme complex activity was completely abolished by cyanide (10 mM). The catalytic products were identified as 2-hydroxy-1,4-naphthoquinone (1,4-naphthoquinone) and 2-oxo-1,4-naphthoquinone (2-oxo-1,4-naphthoquinone) by HPLC, UV-vis spectrophotometry and NMR spectroscopy. The 2-oxo-1,4-naphthoquinone was oxidized by molecular oxygen to the 2,3-epoxy-1,4-naphthoquinone. The synthesis of 2,3-epoxy-1,4-naphthoquinone was abolished by cyanide (10 mM). When the purified enzyme complex was heated to 100 degrees C in the presence of cyanide (10 mM), the enzymes were inactivated in an irreversible manner and the ATP-regenerating enzyme indigoidine reductase was inactivated. The enzyme complex was dissociated into two components by beta-mercaptoethanol. The 45 kDa protein 2edc1e01e8

I am using the following code to print a list in Scheme. How could I change it so that I would be able to print a list of lists? (define (printit n) (if (zerop n) '() (cons (list '() (cdr (nth 1))) (printit (1- n)))))) A: You want to create a list with the form (a b... z), where each pair (a b... z) is the result of applying (printit (n-1)) to the previous element in the list. (define (printit n) (if (zero? n) '() (cons (list '() (cdr (nth 1))) (printit (1- n)))))) Your recursive call to printit is missing the pair (cdr (nth 1)), which must be supplied by the previous recursive call. harry potter and the deathly hallows 7 cast - jk rowling wanted a certain death for albus nymphomaniac. before getting round to killing her, she has sex with her younger brother and then writes a poem about it. - robin hood is resurrected by oak, trapped in some wuthering heights, a constant yearning for death. - billy bob and jonny cobbles fall from a cliff into an icy sea after they are bit by a venomous snake. - billy bob was a folk singer. - jonny cobbles was a folk singer. - mr oswald bluthwait slayed his wife and is now dead. - william shakespeare was a bit of a baddie. - people find o'doyle's notebooks in a suicide pool, with short stories therein. -

What's New in the VideoSolo DVD Creator?

VideoSolo DVD Creator is an application which enables you to create cool video DVDs containing local or downloaded clips, and options to create neat menus.News: Mr. Baker, You're known for your crafty, at times -- sort of, let's say -- simplistic efforts. Your first big project is a little bit more involved and ambitious than those. Tell us a little bit about this... Craig: I don't know that I would consider it an ambitious project. My first big mural was on the side of a building at the San Francisco Airport. It's called "Abrams & Bedford." It's named after a loft and a warehouse in the 1930s. It's supposed to be a celebration of the building and the people who lived there. News: And this is for a building that's been there a long time. Craig: Yeah. I started working on that when it first opened, in 2003. So, it's been my home for 20 years. In the beginning I painted this kind of street scene. The elevators, the street, the storefronts. But then the landlord started changing the look, and by the time I finished it in 2008, it had turned into something a little more abstract. I was trying to get away from those images of street scenes. I did a piece in a gallery in downtown Palo Alto, but I wanted it to be more out there. News: And how many people? Craig: About five or six feet by 15 feet. News: So when you have this many people looking at something like this, you know it's not going to be simple. Craig: Yeah, no, you wouldn't want it to be simple. I have to say I had a hell of a time getting it done. I had a lot of the problems you would expect with a big piece. I couldn't really finish it. So, the landlord took a lot of the work off my hands. He just gave me access to the whole place and let me do what I wanted. And at that time, we were going through a lot of changes. News: What was the best part of the job? Craig: I was very happy with how it came out. I was really excited about doing a big piece, and I think the piece is really successful. I think the people were really happy with the way it came out. I feel like it's become a favorite. News: What's the worst part? Craig: I don't think there was a bad part of it. It took a year and a half to do. So, I don't know. It could have been a good or a bad thing. I think I left it very open-ended. I don't know. I'm not sure. Craig: I would love to do a big piece again. I
