Sentosa Sentosa () is a coastal resort on Singapore's southeast coast. It is south of Esplanade — Theatres on the Bay and to the south of the Marina Bay area, across the Straits of Johor. It is also one of eight districts in the Central Region of Singapore and is one of the three districts that form the southern half of the central district of Singapore. The main tourist attractions of the district are the theme parks, such as The Float@MKZ (formerly Ocean Park), Nusurrah Sea Life, Universal Studios Singapore, The Lost Vleis and Wild Wild Wet. Sentosa is also one of Singapore's major film-producing centres, with several internationally known film studios, such as Magneto International, working out of the district. History Prior to British rule, the site was an indigenous village, and is home to the first recorded place name in the Singaporean Malay language, Ibu Pekan (Mother Village). The Straits Settlements After the separation of Malaya from the Straits Settlements (the Crown colony of the British Malaya) in 1867, the new colony of Singapore received a stretch of coastal land and called it George Town, after its colonial Governor, Sir George Staunton. It later moved its capital to the town of Singapore
